GENDER AUDIT REPORT

Gender audit is a process of evaluating initiatives allied to gender equality and women empowerment. It is a utensil for assessing institutional adherence to gender equality policy. It is also considered as a hasty statement documenting practices of an institution towards gender mainstreaming, identifying the strength and weakness in gendered outcomes in policy execution and endorsing ways of addressing them. Gender equality is a comprehensive issue, and numerous formal and informal recompenses around the world place a focus on women's rights and independence. Gender awareness allows women to move beyond other conventional gender predeterminations and unyielding gender definitions.

The Law School always prioritizes the needs of its students, both in academics and co-academics, and takes specific steps to support girl students. The gender audit report presented here is an attempt to analyse whether the Law School has a fair gender balance and also to assess the impact of policies on gender equality followed by the Law School.

INTRODUCTION

Karnataka State Law University's Law School, Navanagar, Hubballi was established in 2009 and is currently accredited with A grade by NAAC. True to its vision and mission, the Law School has evolved into a knowledge pivot and a leading centre of academic excellence, educating thousands of students in which many are from a purely farming, rural background. Gender audit, in general, measures a Law School's internal efforts to promote gender equality within its organizational, managerial and internal work structures and determines whether these factors have a positive impact on gender equality. By identifying critical gender gaps and challenges, such audits establish a standard against which progress can be measured over time.

This report is based on the data collected through documents and also on the basis of the analysis of the responses of students from various streams of Law School. The Law School always prioritizes the needs of its students, both in academics and co-academics, and takes specific steps to support girl students.
