POLICIES AND PROGRAMMES FOR ALL KINDS OF LEARNERS

Policies and Programmes for all Kinds of Learners The University conducts entrance test before admitting students to the University's Law School. Based on the performance of the students who had appeared in the entrance test will be selected for admission. First year students are introduced with courses on languages. There is a language learning facilitating club called YOUNG NANI under the guidance of English teacher who guides the students weak in language. There are various clubs like Constitutional Law Club, Environmental Law Club and Legal Literacy Club which have been established to cater to the needs of all kinds of learners in the University. Moot Court Competitions, Debate and Elocution Competitions are conducted to hone the oratory skills of students.

Remedial classes are conducted for slow learners and under the mentorship system, each teacher is assigned with group of students who are guided by such mentor teacher.

The University offers programmes and courses for different kinds of learners such as professionals, lawyers, members of NGO s and police officers such as Para-Legal Volunteers Certificate Course and training for members of Self Help Groups.
